Tracking for Law Enforcement

Anti-Kidnapping and Executive Protection

Should an individual be under police protection, whether it be for hire or assigned for witness protection, GSatTrack allows the police force to be with the protected 24/7, even when the police may not be visible. Tracking devices are becoming small enough; a person can safely carry and conceal a unit on their person, monitoring their movement. Multiple devices offer an S.O.S feature, allowing an individual to alert the police of an emergency.

Money Laundering and Anti-Narcotics

Concealed shipping containers, both big and small may contain a magnitude of illegal contraband. However; where they are being delivered to may pose a greater concern. With the use of tracking devices, the police force would be able to monitor the delivery of such shipments to bust the bigger source and not just the contents.
